2    A beach chair includes two frames, a support located between and 3    pivotally connected with the frames for supporting a user and a hydraulic 4    cylinder connected between one of the frames and the support. The 5    hydraulic cylinder includes a lever movable from a first position to a 6    second position. As the lever is in the first position, the hydraulic 7    cylinder cannot be extended and shrunk. As the lever is in the second 8    position, the hydraulic cylinder can be extended and shrunk.
